Stay Healthy This Season

Its that time of year againbe prepared. You may not give much thought to immune health unless you're feeling run down. But keeping your immune system strong is nothing to sneeze at. In fact, it can be a powerful defense for good health all year long. Here are 2 simple strategies from Metagenics:

"C" to your health. In a clinical study, Ultra Potent-C® has shown superior activity when compared to plain ascorbic acid. Ultra Potent-C demonstrated enhanced natural killer (NK) cell activity, reflecting strong immune support potential. In fact, Ultra Potent-C enhanced NK cell activity within 4 hours, whereas the plain ascorbic acid group actually showed a depression in NK cell activity in this time period. Ultra Potent-C also demonstrated superior bioavailability, with an 18% to 25% greater uptake of vitamin C in white blood cells compared to plain ascorbic acid.¹

Get to the core. Try ImmuCore® for a novel combination of 3 recommended immune support approaches. This advanced formula combines clinically demonstrated Ultra Potent-C, essential zinc, and a special blend of 7 health-enhancing mushroom extracts to help enhance functions of macrophages, natural killer cells, and T cell subsets. Plus, it provides selenium and oleanolic acid² additional immune support nutrients. Its multidimensional support in one convenient formula thats ideal for a timely response or daily long-term use.*

Go beyond basic immune support. Contact the office to set up an appointment for more information on immune support strategies for healthdesigned specifically for your needs.*
